HOKE SMITH'S REPORT.

SPIRST OF THE OPERATIONS OF THE INTERIOR DEPARTMENT.

He Urges that the Education of the Indian Should Be Directed with a View to His Probable Fature-Buty of the Government to Preserve Law and Order in Instan Territory-Ten and a Haif Million Acres of Lands Disposed of Buring the Past Tear, Leaving Only About 606,and 000 Acres, Exclusive of Alaska-Work of the Pension and Patent Bureaus

Washington, Nov. 28.—Secretary Hoke Smith has transmitted to the President his annual report on the operations of the Interior Department, and while he has a large number of topics to deal with, he treats them in a way that proves his familiarity with all the affairs ander his control. The Secretary reviews the problem of effective work for the advancement of the Indians. He discusses the subject of education and of allotments of lands in severalty, and urges that the education of the Indians should be for the purpose of fitting them to perform the particular responsibilities most likely to fall to their after lot. He presents the possibilities of the reservation as land to be improved and developed, to which the Indians should be taught to apply those modes of agriculture recognized in civilized life. Their education should fit them for this work, and they should be led on with the assurance that the Govern-nent, in dealing with this land, will treat the ndians with perfect honesty and make no author effort to trade them out of it for the enefit of those who wish to settle upon it. On the subject of the education of the Indians the

"In the management of the Indian schools s finite plan for the Indian when school is fin-...hed must always be in view if practical re-sults are expected from his education. Education should be practically directed with a view o the probable future of the Indian. If he is o temain away from his former home and to enter the struggle of life in our cities and towns, as any other citizen, then his education should be as broad and as liberal as possible, but if he is to return to the reservation, to the place of I is birth, and to commence his active life in the development of the resources of the res-ervation, then his education should be directed especially with a view to the life he will lead upon the reservation and to the pos-sibilities of the reservation itself. If the land is agricultural he should be taught that method and mode of life followed by every American citizen engaged in agriculture. He should not be accustomed to a life far above it, to tastes uch more liberal than would otherwise be his gree fully with those who oppose the use of blic money for the support of sectarian schools. But this question should be considered practically."

In urging a liberal appropriation for field matrons for the Indian service the Secretary has "no doubt that $50,000 spent in this way would ccomplish more than any $50,000 spent in any school that we support."

The Secretary calls attention to the duty which rests upon the United States to preserve law and order throughout the Indian Territory. where at present a state of lawlessness prevails. obtained by agreement with the tribes, it must be enforced as a matter of duty, without regard to the wishes of those who control the tribes He does not specifically recommend the organization of a new Territory, but does urge that the courts in Arkaneas and Texas be abandoned, and that the jurisdiction of United States court be extended the United States court be extended over the territory without regard to citizenship. This would give an opportunity for the members of the various tribes, who feel that they are deprived of their just quotu of lands, to petition the United States courts for allotments in severalty of the portions to which they are respectively entitled. By a resort to such means those Indians who wish their lands in severalty could obtain them, and thus gradually, at least, the holding of lands in common would pass away, and they would be held by individuals. The Secretary condemns in strong terms the establishment of saloons upon the line of Indian establishment of saloons upon the line of Indian away, and they would be held by individuals.

The Secretary condemns in strong terms the setablishment of saleons upon the line of Indian reservations, and calls attention to the decision of Judge Beilinger of the district of Oregon to the effect shat the sale of liquor to an Indian who has received his land in severalty is not in violation of law, because by allotment he has become a citizen. If this decision is right, it presents another argument against too speedy an allotment of lands in severalty to Indians.

The report shows that the public lands disposed of during the past fiscal year aggregate 10.477,294.72 acres and approximates the vacant lands remaining at 666,040,318.71 acres, exclusive of Alaska, which contains 360,000,000 acres, and military and other reservations. Twenty-nine million acres in round numbers are embraced in the lists of selections by railroad and wagon road companies awaiting exare embraced in the lists of selections by rail-road and wagon road companies awaiting ex-amination and settlement at the close of the fiscal year. The aggregate selection of swamp lands since the passage of the act of 1849 is 80.456,153.51 acres. During the past year 138, 159.47 acres were patented under this head. The present system of surveying the public lands is criticised as a slow and defective mode of procedure. It is urged that if this surveying could be done by Government employees it would saye much time.

of procedure. It is urged that if this surveying could be done by Government employees it would save much time.

The great importance of the special service division of the General Land Office is urged. It is shown that the money which it recovers from cash forfeited on entries which have been cancelled through the action of the special agents and from the proportion of timber trespasses has been in years past very much larger than the cost of the service. The small amounts of recent appropriations have very greatly crippled the work in the bureau in this direction.

Congress is asked to make sufficient appropriations to employ at least one superintendent on each reserve, and upon the larger reserves to provide a sufficient force of assistants to prevent public property from being wantonly destroyed. It is also pointed out that a lack of special agents has prevented investigation of proposed forest reserves which would otherwise have been made. The innoctance of laying a foundation for a wise, comprehensive forestry system, to be applied to the timber upon the public lands and the forest reservations is again urged upon Congress. The bill reported upon this subject by the Committee on Public Lands, through its Chairman, Mr. McRac, is commended.

The present organization of the department is under a system by which contested land cases through its Chairman, Mr. McRae, is commended.

The present organization of the department is under a system by which contested land cases are first heard before registers and receivers and then before the Commissioner of the General Land Office, and finally appealed to the Secretary. The importance of giving to the register and receiver the power to compel the attendance of wincesses, inasmuch as the testimony taxen by these officers furnishes the basis for the final adjudication of facts, is mentioned, and legislation is recommended to that end. It is also shown that between 3,000 and 4,000 contested cases reached the Commissioner, and while theoretically he decides them, practically they are decided by a large force of law clerks. The Secretary recommends that the fommissioner of the innersion land Office and the Secretary of the Interior be relieved from the duty of deciding these cases, and that a non-partisan court be created in connection with the General Land Office, the decision of this court to be final so far as the jurisdiction of the department is concerned. It is suggested that an appeal should be had in certain circumstances.

suggested that an appeal should be had in certain circumstances.

Under the head of pensions the report shows that the entire number of pensioners upon the rolls on June 30, 1894, was 968.64. The total amount expended for pensions during the fiscal year was $139.804.61.05, leaving balance from the appropriation in the Treasury of $25,205,712.65. The estimate for the fiscal year 1896 is $140,000,000. The number of pensioners added to the roll during the year was $0.085, while the total number dropped was 37,951. The greater part of the cases now pending in the bureau are old cases. Many of them have been pending for years, and had been examined one or more times prior to this Administration. Upon examination it had been fund in many instances that proof was not sufficient to sustain a pension. The attention of the applicants having been called to the defect in some cases, efforts had been made to supply the needed testimony. The great discrepancy between the number of cases now being allowed and the number allowed two or more years ago grows cut of the tact that the pending cases constitute a remnant of an immense number of claims, of which those well established have already been adjudicated.

The number of appeals, motions, &c., filed from April 15, 1893, to Nov. 1, 1894, wash 847.

The number of appeals, motions, &c., filed for April 15, 1883, to Nov. 1, 1894, wash 347, he number of motions appeals, &c., that have ern acted upon by the Board or Pensions and belatant Secretary from April 15, 1893, to Nov., 1894, was 10,714. This volume of work, acomplished in cighteen and a half months, is unrecedented in the history of the department, and the Secretary way is more than twice the precedented in the history of the department, and the Secretary says is more than twice the humber of cases disposed of in a like period by the prior Administration.

There were 12.5-16 patents granted, including reliance and designs, and I.050 trade marks recisivered during the past year. The number of latents which expired was 13.167. The total exacendatures of the Pairint Office amounted to $1.050,00%. The receipts exceeded the expenditures $120,500. In letting the contracts for the official gazetic and for photo-lithographing in the Fatent Office in the segring of 1864, the facts the Commissioner was improved with the fact that the prices that were being paid for the section was a supermediation.

efforts competitive bids were introduced. Competition once being established, the beneficial results are apparent, the contract for 1894-95 being $44,770 less than the contract for the fiscal year of 1892-93, while the amount of work to be done is practically the same. The Secretary strougly commends the Commissioner's action.

The total disbursements to date for the Eleventh Consus amount to $10,365,676. In the last annual report it was stated that something less than $500,000 would be ample to finish the census. It is now apparent that $275,000 will complete the work. A large portion of the force of the Census Office has been discharged. Between now and Jan. I the force will be reduced to about 200, and by March 1 it will be disbanded, with the exception of a small number who will be retained to supervise proof reading and actual publication.

The Secretary closes his report with a recommendation for an additional building for the Interior Department, as $352,689 was paid out for rental of buildings in which several branches of the department have their offices.

A special train covered the forty-mile run to Babylon in fifty-five minutes, and by 11 o'clock the younger and more venturesome members of the party were trying one of Capt. Money's celebrated Tabasco cocktails in the club house.

As only a few of the members cared to try their skill against such experts as Fred Hoey and Capt. Money the shooting was hardly as interesting as usual. In the first evant, at three pirds, Messrs. Palmer and Hocy divided the pot between them by killing eight birds each. The same gentlemen divided the second sweet at five birds, each killing seven straight. at five birds, each killing seven straight. A seven-bird event followed, with handicap allowances, and young kitteredge, who had been shooting very poorly up to this point, swept all before him by killing 13 birds straight, and won the sweep without the aid of his one dead bird allowance. Capt. Money being a close second with 12 straight to his credit. A miss-and-out affair followed, and Palmer and Kitteredge divided the spoils.

affair followed, and Palmer and Kitterenge divided the spoils.

A short intermission for lunch followed, and then came the big event of the day, a ten-bird affair under handicap allowances. To every one's surprise, old Mr. Haswell Kitteredge again proved the victor, killing his 10 hirds straight. The remainder of the sweeps, four in number, were divided between Capt. Money. Ered Hoey, and Mr. Palmer, the Hollywood crack capturing two. The birds were, as they always are here, a remarkably good lot of flyers, and, owing to the strong wind, nearly all of them were right quarterers or lightning drivers. The scores follow:

Kernochan was the only lady in the saddle to-day. Mrs. Kernochan rode exceedingly well, and was among the first in at the kill. The run was across the Hempstead Plains and the fields and meadows of the Meadow Brook Club.

After the hunt the ladies and gentlemen went to the golf links opposite the club house. Thirty couples played on the greens during the afternoon. The most expert players among the Meadow Brook colony are Oliver W. Bird, Foxhall Keene. Miss May Bird, Mrs. Butter Duncan and Mrs. August Belmont. Black was the predominating color of the golf costumes of the ladies to-day, the most conspicuous of which were worn by Mrs. August Belmont, Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock, Miss Roby, and Mrs. Sidney Dillon Ripley. The contest for a beautiful silver powder puff, offered by Mrs. August Belmont, was postponed until to-morrow. Following are the ladies entered for the contest, with their handicaps:

Mrs. Duncan, O. Miss Sands, O. Miss Mills, 9; Miss the saddle to-day. Mrs. Kernochan rode expounds and ran the five furlongs in 1:02. There was as good as 12 to 1 against the gelding, and Griffin kept him in front almost from the fall of the flag. Some money went in on High Point Belle, but Clerico is as slow as molasses at the post, and he managed to get the filly so tangled up that third position was the best she could secure at the finish. Hallstone and Oily Gamin were played some, too, but neither ma-terialized.

Senator Vest got out of the maiden class in the second race, but it was a very tight fit between the Senator, who was the odds-on favorite, the 50 to 1 shot, Maggie Smith, and the 40 to 1 chance, Vision. The latter made the running and was not caught until the last jump. Maggie Smith should have won, but Griffin outrode Keefe. "Pe" Daiy's star jockey, and got the verdict by a nose. Vision was only beaten a head for second money. Chillion was very heavily played, but he was knocked to his knees on the first turn and dropped out of the contest.

head for second money. Chillion was very heavily played, but he was knocked to his knees on the first turn and dropped out of the contest.

Miss Dixle was a false favorite for the dash at a mile and a half, as the distance is further than the brown mare fancies. Charter, with Simms up, was second choice, with Pulitzer more fancied than any of the others. Baroness, a three-year-old, who has always shown a liking for a distance of ground, was at 15 to 1, and after Miss Dixle and Charter had raced in the first division for a mile and a quarter, young Garrigan cut loose with her. By daring riding he squeezed through on the rail at the head of the stretch, and, although he almost fell off in the run home, managed to keep his seat and won handsomely. Charter beat Miss Dixle in a drive for second money. Clarus was well up for the greater part of the Journey, and Blue Garter was a good horse badly ridden by little O'Leary, who weighs only seventy-five pounds. He became very tired before the end of the long race. Van Brunt was very heavily played to win the dash at four furlongs, for two-year-olds. He was very poorly ridden by Finnegan, and was third at the wire. Marengo, after getting off last, overhauled Velvet Rose, who led by fifty yards at one time, and won cleverly. Van Brunt, after being taken wide at the turn, ran through the stretch like a wild horse, and was lapped on Velvet Rose at the finish. Marengo is owned by the veteran trainer, James Walden, and her victory did the old man a lot of good.

Hammie, with Simms up, won the fifth race away off. The patched-up cripple was a good horse to-day. Vestibule might have made it interesting for the winner had he not ran out on the first turn. He was a sixteenth of a mile behind the leaders at one time, but chased Equation home and forced Penn to ride in order to secure second money.

Marshall was a slight favorite over Little Tom for the closing dash of a mile. Keefe rode Little Tom with very good judgment, getting into haif a dozen pookets. Marshall turned into the

ANOTHER DRAWN GAME.

Albin and Showalter Divide Honors in the Thirteenth Came of the Chess Match. Late on Wednesday night, and after fifty-one ter gave up the thirteenth game of the ches Ruy Lopez, which Showalter defeated with a Kt-K B 3. Like the game played on Monday, this contest was beautifully fought, but neither this contest was beautifully fought, but neither side could get a winning advantage at any stage of the game. The score now reads: Showalter, U: Albin, 4: drawn. S. Here follows the game, with notes by Albin: THIRTEENTH GAME—RUY LOPEZ.

 (a) Better than B-B 4.
 (b) As a rule P-Q B 3 is played here, but white intends to exchange the minor pleces in order to simtends to exchange the minor pleces in order to sim-plify matters.

(e) Black ought to have waited with the pushing of this pawn, but rather should have moved his II to either Kt 2 or K 3.

(d) According to Steinitz's theories this move weak-ens the king's wing, but in positions like this one, where the queen must get some free movement, I be-lieve that the text move was of advantage, inasmuch as it made room for the knight on R 2 at the same time. (e) Q-K 2, in order to make room for the K B P, was preferable.

(f) A weak move, which ought to lose the game.
(g) Inconsistent. Kt-H2 ought to have been played here under all circumstances. the A good move, which prevents white's intended nove, Kt-B 4. However, It also lost time. B-K 3 in onnection with Q-Kt 2, P-K B 8, and B-K B 2 would ave been much stronger. s. K.-R in order to disengage the Kt (a) 3c.pr/module. R.-B. in order to disengage the Kt was the proper move here.

a cool game for white.

It is a cool game for white.

(a) With this move the game has drawish looks, as both parties don't care to compromise their respective positions with a rash move.
